STATE OF ILLINOIS.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

WM. H. HINRICHSEN, Secretary of State.

To all to whom these Presents shall come, Greeting:

WHEREAS, a Certificate, duly signed and acknowledged, having been filed in the office of the Secretary of State, on the 14th day of December, A. D., 1895, for the organization of "The Physicians' Club of Chicago," under and in accordance with the provisions of An Act Concerning Corporations, approved April 18, 1872, and in force July 1, 1872, and all acts amendatory thereof, a copy of which Certificate is hereto attached.

Now, Therefore, I, WILLIAM H. HINRICHSEN, Secretary of State of the State of Illinois, by virtue of the powers and duties vested in me by law, do hereby certify that the said, "The Physicians' Club of Chicago," is a legally organized Corporation under the laws of this State.

In Testimony Whereof, I hereto set my hand and cause to be affixed the great Seal of State. Done at the City of Springfield, this 14th day of December, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, and of the Independence of the United States, the one hundred and twentieth.

W. H. HINRICHSEN,
Secretary of State.

Recorded in the office of the County Clerk of Cook County,
February 23rd, 1897.

HISTORICAL.

The Physicians' Club was formed by the union of the Doctors' and Practitioners' Clubs.

The former had a membership almost wholly on the South Side, while the latter was composed of members from every part of the city. Their aims and purposes were similar, viz.: to promote sociability and good fellowship among the members of the profession, and to discuss at monthly meetings general topics of current interest, related in any way to medical affairs.

It was thought that a combination of these forces would be more useful and more productive of good than both operating singly.

In answer to an invitation from the Executive Committee of the Practitioners' Club, the Executive Committees of both Clubs met October 14th, 1895, and agreed to advise consolidation of the membership, and that the Doctors' Club amend its Charter by inserting the word "Physicians'" in place of the word "Doctors'." It was further agreed that all members in good standing, in either of the Clubs, should be members of the new organization; that the membership should be limited to 250; that the annual dues should be $2.00; and that monthly meetings, with dinners and discussion, should be the order, as heretofore.

The Reports of the Committees were discussed by each of the Clubs in special sessions, and adopted by vote.

The first meeting of the new organization was held at the Union League Club, Monday evening, Nov. 25th, 1895. Dr. John Ridlon presided, and sixty-five members from both of the old Clubs were present. The new Constitution and By-Laws that had been formulated and endorsed by the Executive Committees in a joint session, were presented and adopted.

The second year of the existence of the Physicians' Club was marked by prosperity; the membership limit was almost reached, in spite of the fact that a number of members were retired for non-payment of dues, and a considerable number of old members were added to the honorary list.

With the notice for the meeting of January 25th, 1897, at which was discussed the subject "What is the attitude of the Physicians' Club in local political affairs?" a postal card vote was taken, which resulted almost unanimously in the resolution that the Club should take some active part in local municipal affairs.

Final action upon this question was deferred until the next meeting of the Club, which was held February 22nd, 1897. The following resolutions were adopted :

Whereas, The necessity is apparent and urgent for every good citizen to use his influence to promote local good government, and

Whereas, It appears that the Physicians' Club may reasonably undertake as an organization that which each member attempts individually, therefore,

Be it resolved, That the Physicians' Club shall, in a non-partisan way, exert its influence for good government in Chicago.

Resolved: That no discussion or action upon a question which is of a partisan or party character shall be tolerated.

Resolved: That a committee of five, which may be called the "Good Government Committee" be appointed by the Directors, which Committee shall act in conjunction with the Civic Federation, the Municipal Voters' League, and other organizations having similar objects, to the end, that good men may be nominated for local offices, and that the members of the Club may be informed as to the best men before them for their suffrages.

Resolved: That it is the sense of the Club that all medical offices be filled by medical men.

At the following meeting of the Directors a Good Government Committee was selected. Of this Committee, Dr. H. M. Starkey was chosen chairman, and Drs. A. R. Edwards, D. R. Brower, Truman W. Miller and George F. Fiske the other members.

This Committee took immediate action and issued a circular to nearly all the physicians and dentists of Chicago, containing information and advice concerning the candidates in the spring municipal election.

The Physicians' Club of Chicago represents the liberal-minded element in the profession. It takes cognizance of political and sociological conditions which relate to medical practice and principle. It has denounced, in no uncertain manner, partisan favoritism in the management of our health department. It has taken exception to irregularities in the administration of public charities and the control of eleemosynary institutions. It has criticised any apparent deviation from professional etiquette. It has discussed with freedom some of the vagaries of contemporaneous practice. It has invited to participate in its discussions and has treated in a tolerant manner, persons holding all sorts of opinions on all sorts of questions. It is an open arena to which is invited the expression of the most diversified views on matters pertaining to the welfare of society. It seeks the truth, and its endeavor is to foster a spirit of altruism among its members.

At the end of its third year of existence, its membership is full and several applicants are in waiting. Its meetings are well attended and the consideration of live topics of the day has often been animated. It is safe to assume that its future usefulness will be increased along these same lines, and that its influence will become more powerful in the profession—an influence constantly exerted for the public good.

The Physicians' Club of Chicago is in affiliation with the Illinois State Medical Society. Its members are admitted to membership in the American Medical Association upon certificate.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS.

ADOPTED NOVEMBER 25, 1895.

This organization of the Doctors' Club and the Practitioners' Club shall be known as THE PHYSICIANS' CLUB OF CHICAGO.

Primarily the object of this Club shall be to foster that spirit of friendly intercourse which should prevail among those having a like aim in life.

In view of these purposes let it be held :

SECTION 1. That the limit of membership shall be placed at two hundred and fifty.

SEC. 2. That hereafter any male member of the regular medical profession, in good and honorable standing, shall be eligible for membership, providing that his application is duly certified and placed in the Secretary's hands, together with the membership fee of five dollars ($5.00). Membership will then be acquired upon the favorable action of the Board of Directors. (Amendment adopted September 28th, 1896). The Directors may elect to honorary membership such laymen or physicians as in their judgment seem fit ; such honorary membership to confer all the privileges of the Club except the right to vote.

SEC. 3. The Officers shall consist of a Secretary, who shall be elected ex-officio a member of the Board, and six (6) Directors, who shall be elected by the Association at the Annual Meeting, and a Treasurer, who shall be chosen by the Directors. The Secretary and Treasurer shall hold office for one (1) year, and the other Directors shall hold office for two (2) years, provided that, of those chosen, three (3) shall hold office until May, 1896, and three (3) until May, 1897, (amended to read June, 1897).

The Board of Directors shall appoint a Chairman for each meeting of the Club, it being understood, however, that no member shall serve as Chairman twice within a year.

SEC. 4. That there shall be a repast at each meeting, after which the discussion will be in order.

SEC. 5. That the Annual dues shall be two dollars ($2.00) payable within three (3) months from the beginning of the fiscal year, dating from May 1st. (Amended to read June 1st). Failure to pay dues shall constitute good cause for depriving the member of the Club benefits.

SEC. 6. That each member shall be permitted the courtesy of the Club for one or more guests at any meeting, becoming responsible for the extra covers thus provided.

SEC. 7. That amendment or revision of these Rules may be made by a two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) vote of the number present at any meeting of the Club, provided due notice has been given at the preceding meeting, and such notice sent to each member with the regular announcement of the meeting at which the amendment will be acted upon.

(Amendment adopted September 28th, 1896).

SEC. 8. Conduct unbecoming a physician and a gentleman shall be considered good cause for the expulsion of any member, provided charges be preferred to the Directors, and the member so accused be permitted a hearing before them, or before a tribunal appointed by them for the purpose.
